All meals are freshly prepared in our kitchen by Head Chef Michael Carr and his team using only the finest ingredients and the freshest local produce available.

Some dishes may have extended cooking times due to the complexity of their composition.

~. Special Diets and Intolerances. ~

All our meals are individually prepared and cooked at the time of ordering. Most dishes can be amended to cater for any special dietary requirements you may have, for example by omitting the meat or other ingredients. Please ask if you have any particular intolerance or allergies towards any potential ingredients in our meals and chef can advise you on suitable options.
